Girls on the Run Greater Cincinnati
Lottery Registration Frequently Asked Questions

How does the lottery system work?

Registration will open for a week and half and then close. At that time, if more girls are registered than the number of available spots on a team (15), the registration system will randomly select girls for that team. All additional girls will remain in “lottery status” and be placed on the waiting list. Should a girl drop, and a spot opens during the first two weeks, we can fill that spot from the waiting list via another lottery.

Teams that are not at capacity will include all girls registered at that time. Registration will then re-open and additional girls will be added on a first-come, first-served basis until capacity is reached for each team.

Why a lottery system?

The lottery system allows all girls the same opportunity to participate in Girls on the Run. The lottery system provides every family an equal opportunity to register and equal access to participate in the program.

What if my daughter is not selected?

In the event the desired team is full, additional girls will be placed on the wait list for that team. Should a spot open within the first two weeks, we will conduct another online lottery. Your credit card will not be charged unless your daughter is formally added to the team.

If it's truly random, why do you ask how many seasons my daughter has participated?

This information is collected on behalf of Girls on the Run International. It is used to calculate retention rates and for curriculum development purposes.

What about sisters?

To keep the lottery truly random sisters are treated as individuals in the lottery system.

Is the lottery for everyone or only when a team is full?

Everyone who registers during the first wave will receive a confirmation email notifying them that they are in “lottery status.” If more girls are registered than the number of available spots on a team, the lottery will occur to randomly select girls for that team. All additional girls will remain in “lottery status” and be placed on the wait list for full teams. If a spot becomes available within the first two weeks of the season, a girl will be randomly selected from the wait list.

Teams that are not at capacity after the first wave of registration will include all girls registered at that time. Registration will then re-open and additional girls will be added on a first-come, first-served basis until capacity is reached for each team.

Could you add more girls on a team if I volunteer to coach?

To ensure quality programming, we limit our team numbers based on many factors. Some factors include space availability at each site, previously ordered program supplies, facility usage limits, and the number and experience of committed coaches before registration begins. Though programs may be cancelled if a minimum number of coaches cannot be recruited, we do not add coaches at the last minute to accommodate more girls. Adults with availability and interest in coaching are encouraged to learn about coaching opportunities on our website and apply well in advance of the next season's registration date. This allows us to effectively project and plan for the upcoming season and provide new coaches the opportunity to attend coach training and meet with their coaching team. Once registration opens, team limits are set, and no additional coaches will be added to accommodate more girls.
